

THE CURRENT

FREE

www.shorenewstoday.com

APRIL 30, 2009
VOL. 13, NO. 27

OF GALLOWAY TOWNSHIP ▲ PORT REPUBLIC

14 CURRENTS OF GALLOWAY - PORT REPUBLIC / Thursday, April 30, 2009

Submitted by Joanna Westcott

Above, Will Swartz, Jac Smiriniw and Dhvani Patel shovel topsoil Wednesday, April 23 in at Galloway Township's Patriot Park.

At right, Miss Teen Galloway Jillian Farquharson is ready to work... as soon as the rain stops.

Earth Day projects at Patriot Park

A little rain didn't stop fourth-grade students from Arthur Rann Elementary School in Galloway Township from helping out at Patriot Park on Earth Day Wednesday, April 23. Between the raindrops, students helped Barbara Fiedler, Galloway Township community education director, clean up trash, tend to planting beds and plant flowers to help beautify the park. Miss Teen Galloway Jillian Farquharson, an Absegami High School senior, and other local residents came out to give back a little something despite the weather. Joe's Farm Market donated a magnolia tree that was planted as the first phase in a three-year plan to create a garden that will be sponsored and maintained by Miss Teen Galloway and the Galloway Township Fourth of July Parade Committee.

Submitted by Nicole Price